

Tearoom at Horse Show.

One of the interesting features of the horse show, which, weather permitting, will have its twice postponed opening tomorrow, will be the tearoom, fashioned by screening off a section of the grand stand with cedar. The proceeds from the tearoom will be given to the Salvation Army budget. Mrs. H. C. Clark will be in charge, aided on Friday by

Women's, Misses' and Large Women's Styles

Comfortable for wear about the house and good-looking enough for morning, street or porch wear. Practical, serviceable and most attractive.

Somehow work seems so much pleasanter when you know you look well dressed.

Then, too, the emergency of a sudden visitor presents no alarms. Why should you wear your old clothes "around the house" when, for such small expenditure, you can have several of these delightful morning dresses?

apt. O. Nagano, and Major T. Hara, company of thirty-six at luncheon yesterday in a private dining room at the Hotel Washington.

Mrs. William Atherton Du Puy, national president of the League of American Pen Women, will leave Washington this afternoon for Virginia, to be gone for the week-end, returning to resume her office as the national head of the re-organized organization, and to attend the first national executive board meeting of the new officers.

Mrs. Thomas Bell Sweeney entertained fourteen guests at a pretty appointed luncheon yesterday in company with Mrs. John Rogers. For several years it has been a custom of Mrs. Sweeney to give a luncheon on the opening day at the horse show.

Mrs. Richard C. Moore will reach Washington on Monday from Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where her husband, Major Moore, is now on duty, and will be the guest for a few days of Major and Mrs. Francis B. Wilby, Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss Wilfred Davis, of Washington.

Major and Mrs. Wilby expect to go to Leavenworth for station within the next few months.

MASK AND WIG CLUB COMING.
The Mask and Wig, the famous dramatic club of the University of Pennsylvania, will present "Somebody's Lion," at the Belasco Theater, Monday evening, May 23. This clever comedy has won more than the usual success attending the offerings of the Mask and Wig organization, which this season is said to be even stronger than in previous years. Mrs. Charles J. Bell has charge of the sale of boxes, for which there has been a brisk demand. Among those who have boxes are Mrs. Charles Boughton Wood, Mrs. Francis E. Warren, Mrs. Francois Berger Moran, and Miss Lee Jones.

Judge James Hay, of the Court of Claims, announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Frances Brockborough Hay, to Randolph Page, son of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Page, of this city, Monday, May 9, at the home of the bride. The wedding was a simple one owing to mourning in the bride's family and was performed by the Rev. John H. Jeffries in the presence of only a few immediate families. On their return from New York Mr. and Mrs. Page will reside in Washington.

Mrs. Absalom Waller was a luncheon hostess at the Willard yesterday, entertaining in honor of her sister, Mrs. Frederic G. Hausman, of New York, who has been her guest for several days.

MRS. GROSVENOR TO WED.
Mrs. William Grosvenor, prominent in society in New York, Providence and Newport, and Gen. Wilbur Elliot Wilder, U. S. A., retired, of this city, will be married at noon tomorrow at Roslyn, the summer estate of Mrs. Grosvenor. The honeymoon will be passed in Europe.

The annual meeting of the District of Columbia Society, United States Teachers of 1812, will be held at the Willard tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The members of the District board, which met at the Hotel Richmond, May 10, were entertained for a luncheon by Mrs. Vandegrift and Mrs. Draper, after the business session.

The Calvert Club will hold a get-together party this evening at 1722 Massachusetts avenue.

Stanislav Spacek, technical attaché of the special mission at the Czechoslovakian legation, entertained a N. J., were married Monday afternoon in the presence of near friends and relatives. Dr. Schaffer, of Baltimore, performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Shrager will return from their wedding trip on Sunday, when a reception will be held at the home of the bride, 410 K street northwest.

Because of the inclement weather, the Robert E. Lee Chapter, U. D. C., will have an indoor dance at the Raleigh Hotel on Tuesday, May 17, at 9 o'clock, in place of the dance which was to have been held on May 12 at Chevy Chase Lake. Guests are requested to retain the cards issued for the outdoor dance, which will be honored on Tuesday evening. Further information may be obtained from the president of the chapter, Mrs. E. H. Lynham, or Mrs. Walter E. Hutton, chairman of the ball committee.

Miss Flora Angela Addison will be May queen of the May procession on Sunday afternoon, May 22, at St. Paul's Church, at Fifteenth and V streets.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Schoeder will be hosts on May 28 to the members of the Anthony League and their friends, on their houseboat, anchored on the Potomac near New Alexandria. As the capacity of the boat is limited to 150, all those wishing to attend should apply at once to Mrs. Charles W. Fitts, 1423 Allison street. A special car will leave at 11 a. m. at Twelfth street and Pennsylvania avenue, but tickets are good on regular trains. There will be fishing, boating, and other forms of entertainment of which Miss Ina C. Emery is in charge.

On Wednesday evening, May 18, there will be a meeting of the executives of the league and the chairmen of the committees to discuss plans for the autumn activities. At the annual meeting the league the following officers were elected: Mrs. Anna E. Hendley, president; Mrs. Nanette B. Paul, L.L.B., first vice president; Mrs. Evelyn C.
